Rampage Sport Fishing Yachts earns NMMA CSI Recognition Award for Excellence in Customer Satisfaction

Navassa, N.C., July 5, 2007 -- Rampage Sport Fishing Yachts' 2007 program of sport fishing express yachts received one of the highest honors any consumer-driven company can earn: recognition for excellence in customer satisfaction. The National Marine Manufacturers Association today announced that Rampage is an award recipient of its prestigious Customer Satisfaction Index Recognition Award for excellence in customer service in the "sport fishing express boat" category.

"The entire team at Rampage, from management to engineers to production crews and our dealer network, has worked tirelessly to exceed owner expectations in the yachts we craft and the service we provide. This award recognizes those efforts," says Rick Jelinski, Rampage general manager.

Rampage's commitment to quality, customer satisfaction and support of the marine industry's efforts to enhance the boating experience helped earn Rampage its CSI award. Since the CSI program's inception in 2001, the NMMA has sent more than 450,000 surveys to new boat and engine owners. Today, 100 marine, boat and engine manufacturers participate.
